When deciding to remove any of your favorites, simply click on the 'X' next to the favorite you wish to close.

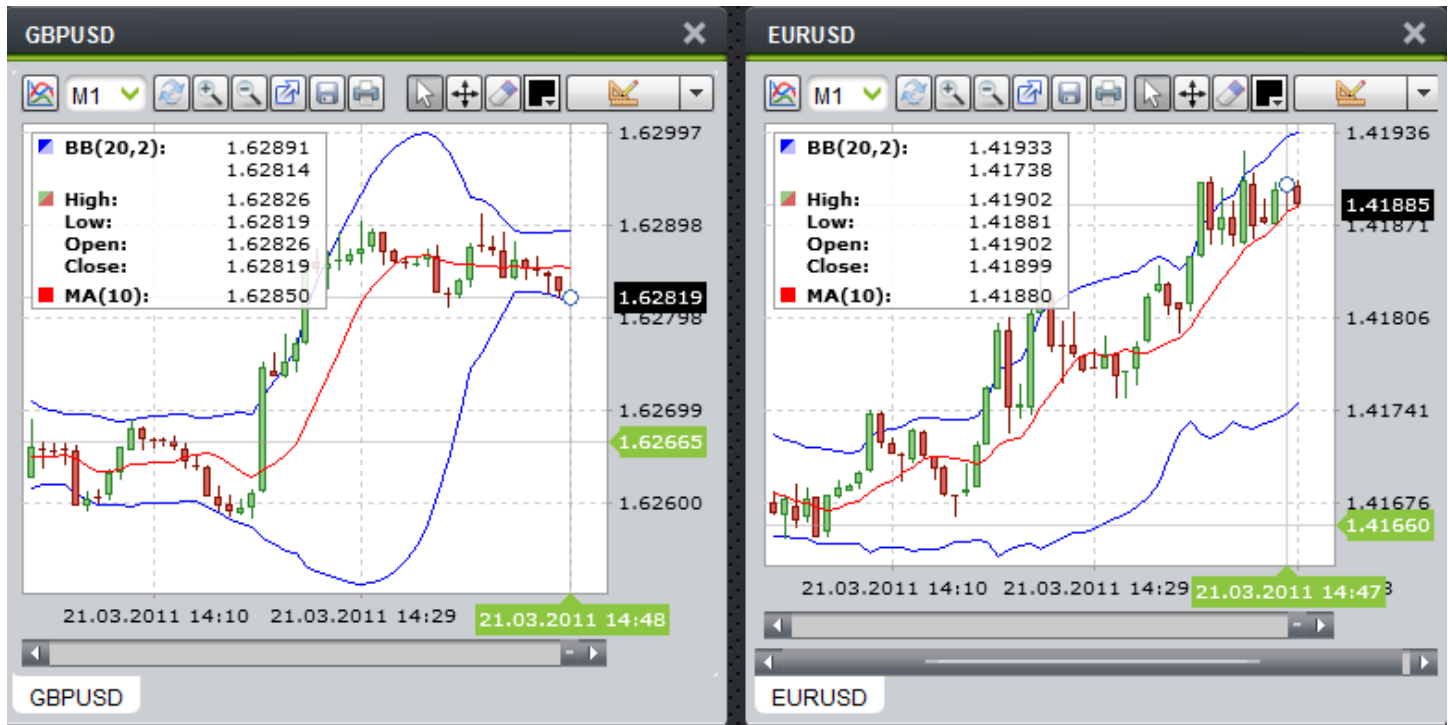

Spot Panes

The Spot Panes provide you with a direct link to your selected trades which you wish to have quick access to. On a Spot Pane you are given the Buy or Sell option with the current rates. The spot pane also states the spread. From the pane you can choose your volume then, by clicking the Buy or Sell buttons, place your order. You will receive a notification saying your order was approved, this indicates your order was successfully placed.

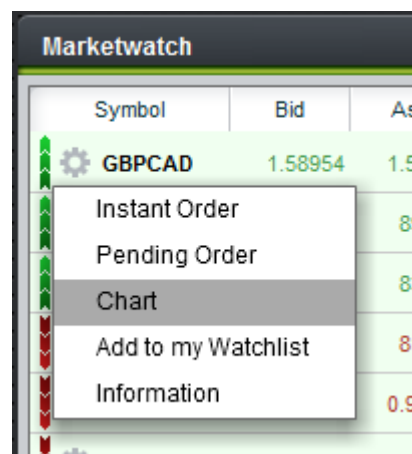

Charts

This is where your selected charts will be displayed and functional from, your charts area is easily visible and is located in the top section of your screen.

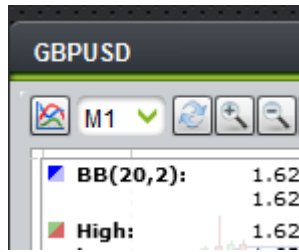

Adding a Chart

To add a chart you must select the 'Chart' option which can be found within the options menu on the left hand side of each of the Symbols.

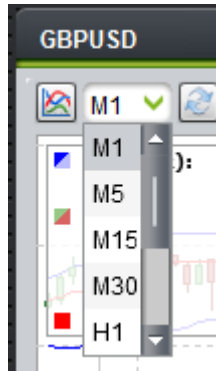

Using Charts

There are several features of the chart which you must be aware of. On each chart the instruments symbol is stated on the top of the window. In the example below it is GBPUSD.

A drop down menu in the top left corner of the chart area, allows the choices for time periods you can select; they range from M1 = 1 minute, to MN1 = 1 Month.

You can select from 3 different types of candlestick, bars or a line chart:

Chart Options

- Settings

- Print

M1 - Time Frame

- Cursor

- Refresh

- Move

- Zoom in

- Erase

- Zoom out

- Drawing Color

- Full screen

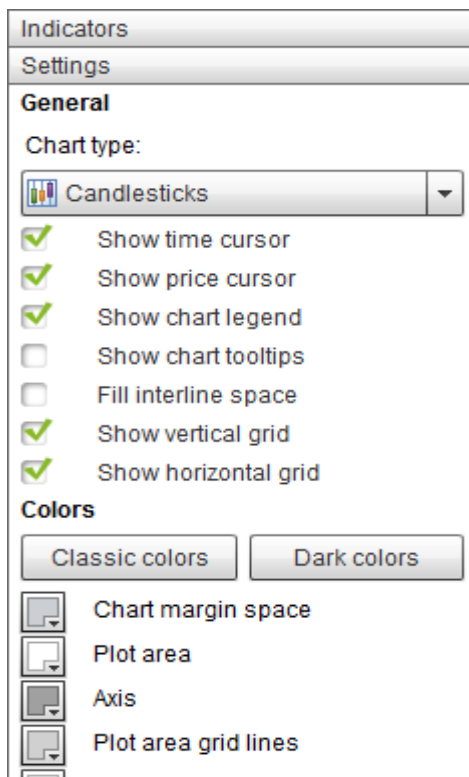

- Drawing options

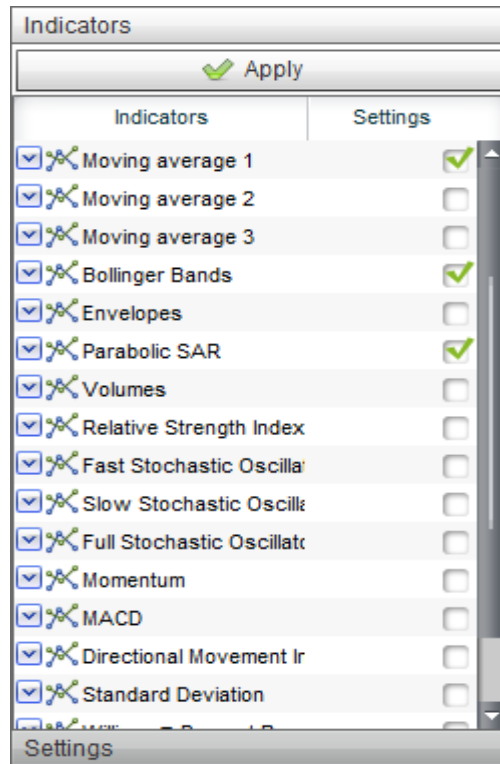

- Save

Within the Settings menu  you will have access to all your General settings options, such as Chart type and Colors.

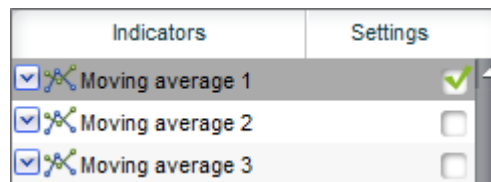

Indicators

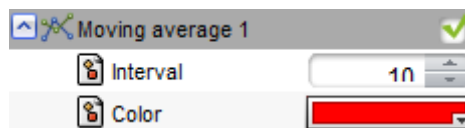

Also within this menu you will find a list of Indicators, as shown below:

In order to add an Indicator to your chart, simply check the box of your desired Indicator. When removing your Indicator, simply uncheck the box.

In order to change the settings for your Indicator, click on the arrow on the left hand side of the listed Indicator.

Using your mouse, if you hover over any area of a chart it will tell you certain information regarding that trade for that specific time period.

The scroll bar along the bottom of your chart allows scrolling horizontally (left and right), moving the chart back and forwards in time.

Trades

The Trades tab shows the full order details of your open positions and pending orders, as well as allowing you to modify orders. It also indicates your balance, equity, margin, free margin, and margin level.

Opening a New Order

Opening a trade is pretty simple and can be done by various methods...

1. Double-clicking any instrument in the Market Watch window
2. Using the Spot Panes within the Favorites Section

Clicking or double clicking depending on where you are opening a new order will bring you to a screen like below. When placing an order must select the Symbol, set the Volume, you can optionally set a Stop Loss or Take Profit for the order, and then you must decide whether you want to create an Instant Execution or a Pending Order.

The screenshot shows a 'New order' dialog box. The 'Symbol' dropdown is set to 'USDJPY, US Dollar vs Japanese Yen'. The 'Volume' is set to '0.1'. 'Stop Loss' and 'Take Profit' are both set to '0'. The 'Type' dropdown is set to 'Instant Execution'. There is an unchecked checkbox for 'Use maximum deviation from requested price.' and a 'Maximum deviation' field set to '0'. At the bottom, there are two buttons: a red 'Sell' button with price 80.97⁶ and a green 'Buy' button with price 80.98².

Instant Execution

Being an Instant Execution you must then choose whether to 'Buy' or 'Sell' by clicking the corresponding button, you also you have the option of using and specifying a Maximum Deviation on instant executed orders.

Once clicking on Buy or Sell, you will know if your order was successfully placed when a message appears stating the price, order number, symbol, and the time it was approved at. You can then click on Close Window and carry on trading.

The screenshot shows a 'Processing Order' dialog box. It displays the message: 'Order processed #8926970 sell 0.10 EURJPY at price 115.082 approved on 17:08:22 GMT+0200'. Below the message is a 'Close Window' button.

Pending Orders

Being a Pending Order you do not have the ability to Buy or Sell or use the maximum deviation. Instead you must...

...select it to be:

- Buy Limit*
- Sell Limit*
- Buy Stop*
- Sell Stop*

Then you must specify the 'Price' you wish the pending order to be executed at. You can also optionally set an 'Expiration', which is the date for the pending order to delete if it doesn't reach its Price. When finished select the 'Set Order' button.

If the order is successfully placed, you will receive a message like so where it will state the price, order number, symbol, and the time it was approved at. You can then click on Close Window and carry on trading.

Modify/Close an Order

From within the Trades section you can modify/close any orders. In the case of updating an open order simply double-click on your chosen order and a window as shown below will appear.
